FOREWORD

Andreas Stylianou

Chairman of the IAC

In 2017, the Cyprus Insurance Market demonstrated an impressive rate of growth, against a backdrop of internal challenges and rising uncertainty in the world around us. It is very rewarding for us to witness the very positive outcome of the hard work done during the last few years to turn around our economy and our industry following the 2013 EU-IMF bailout.

The Economic Environment

Cyprus GDP increased by 3,9% in 2017, compared to 2,9% in 2016. Unemployment levels fell considerably, from 12,8% at the end of 2016 to 11,3% at the end of 2017. On the fiscal side, the general government's fiscal balance registered a surplus of 1,9% compared to a surplus of 0,5% in 2016. Furthermore, the economy experienced strong performance, mainly driven by record-high tourism revenues. Meanwhile, credit rating agencies have taken note of the island's broad-based recovery and prudent fiscal policy and upgraded the island's creditworthiness which now stands at BB+ with positive outlook according to S&P.

Nevertheless our economy faces important internal and domestic challenges and risks. The situation in Syria and the volatility in the region in general, Turkish provocations in Cyprus' exclusive economic zones, deterioration in relations between Turkey on the one hand and Greece, EU, and US on the other, the growing clash and estrangement between Russia and the West, and the possible negative implications from Brexit, all represent risks to the Country's outlook that must be reckoned with. On the domestic front, work is still needed to effectively address the issue of non-performing loans and to implement necessary key structural reforms in the public sector.

The overall outlook however is definitely positive. This is supported, according to the European Commission, by continuously rising employment levels and consumer confidence, solid consumption, and ever stronger investment. The Commission forecasts a 3,6% and 3,3% GDP growth for 2018 and 2019 respectively, while the unemployment rate is expected to drop to 7,1% in 2019.

The Insurance Market

Following on from the 2,5% growth registered in 2016, the Cyprus Insurance industry achieved a notable growth of 6,7% in 2017, demonstrating a better performance than that of the general economy. In monetary terms, total premiums increased to €835m from €782m in 2016. The Life and Non-Life sectors expanded by 8,1% and 5,8% respectively in 2017. Based on our own observations of market activity and some early data, we expect that 2018 will also be a year of strong growth for our industry.

The insurance sector once again proved its reliability and professionalism by paying €486m in claims and benefits during 2017, representing an increase of 3% compared to the year before. Investments under management exceeded €2,5bn and reached their pre-crisis levels, confirming consumers' trust in insurers' ability to safe keep, manage and grow their clients' investment.

Challenges

2017 was a very busy and challenging year, characterized by very important developments in the policy and regulatory front. The breadth of work undertaken across topics and sectors particularly stands out, as the industry had to deal with a variety of challenges such as the new EU General Data Protection Regulation, the Insurance Distribution Directive, and the government's decision to opt for a single payer national health system, to name but a few.

A great deal of time and effort was put in the transposition and implementation of the Insurance Distribution Directive and particularly on the need to rethink and redesign the rules concerning knowledge, competence and ongoing training of persons involved in the distribution of insurance products. Implementation difficulties relating to the PRIIPS Regulatory Framework had to be resolved, while significant resources were allocated to address the challenges stemming from the introduction and implementation of the new Supervisory Order on the Collection of premiums by intermediaries and their timely payment. Another issue of utmost importance for the industry was the overhaul of the data protection legal framework with the introduction of the GDPR. Its far reaching changes and its level of complexity necessitated extensive implementation and compliance preparations involving significant costs and staff time.

On Pensions, we stand behind the government's intention to review and reform the existing framework and we are pleased that it is recognized that the Insurance Industry can play a significant role in its modernization. A modern pension framework is one that is based on the three pillar framework and ensures adequate, secure and sustainable pensions for all citizens. In our view, the establishment of an independent Supervisory Authority of Insurance and Occupational Pensions would facilitate the process and would ensure the effective implementation of the Pensions and the Insurance Framework.

The enactment of the Laws regarding the introduction of the Cyprus National Health System, regrettably did not take into account the legitimate concerns of our industry. We are however looking ahead and plan to continue to contribute with suggestions for the further improvement of the system.

An issue that is of particular concern to us is the inability of the authorities to effectively enforce the Law on Employers' compulsory liability insurance, with an estimated 50% of employers being uninsured. This is having devastating consequences for victims of industrial accidents and their families who as a result, are left without any compensation. As a consequence of the large number of uninsured employers, the establishment of the Workers Compensation Insurance Fund has not been made possible, widening even further the gap of protection. The competent Ministry needs to step up and address the problem without further delay and, from our part we shall be voicing our concerns and campaigning until this problem comes to an end and workers receive the protection required by the law.

Relevant to this is the still pending reform of the public sector that is meant to modernize government functions and services and improve transparency, speed, quality, efficiency and effectiveness. We are calling for bold and meaningful reforms that will introduce simplicity and facilitate rather than impede the efforts of the private sector. The introduction of Better Regulation principles in our domestic system of rule-making is key in this context.

Technological challenges and the Digital Transformation remain high on our agenda as they will reshape the insurance business model. The target is to use technology in order to enhance customer experience and customer value for money.

Conclusion

There are a lot of challenges that we need to tackle. Our Industry's professionalism, demonstrated by our resilience during the economic crisis, is the cornerstone for improving the Cyprus Insurance Market, benefiting our customers but also the general economy.
